WHY SHE BLUSHES

They tell us of the blushing bride
Who to the altar goes
Adown the aisle of a church
Between the friend-filled rows.
There's Billy, whom she motored with,
And Bob, with whom she swam.
There's Jack—she used to golf with him—
And Steve, who called her "Lamb."
There's Ted, the football man she owned,
There's Hubert, yes, and blond Eugene—
They took her off to plays.
And there is Harry, high school beau,
With whom she used to mope.
No wonder she's a "blushing bride"—
Ye gods! She ought to blush!

PAY OUT $1300 FOR STAMPS FOR XMAS PACKAGES

Honoluluans yesterday passed $1300 over the counters of the postoffice's stamp windows for the little stickers that carry Uncle Sam's mail. It was the heaviest single day's stamp business done during the Christmas rush this year to date.

For yesterday and Thursday, stamp sales totaled $2000, $500 less than the sales for Monday and Tuesday, which aggregated $2500.

The postoffice will keep open Monday and Tuesday evening to accommodate Honoluluans who want to have their Christmas presents in the postoffice in plenty of time to catch the Matsunaka, sailing Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. This is the last boat on which Christmas presents will reach the mainland before Christmas. She is due to dock at San Francisco December 21.

Postoffice officials said this morning that Christmas presents being mailed this year for mainland points by Honoluluans are generally heavier and bulkier than in 1914. They think this is due to the increase of the weight limit to 20 pounds.

TRADE BLOCKADE HURTS COMMERCE

CHRISTIANIA, Nov. 20.—The Norwegian-American line has been compelled to cease carrying freight from the United States to Sweden, since the Swedish government has refused to guarantee to Great Britain that incoming freight would not be exported. The steamer Christianiafjord, which had a cargo of 6000 cases of canned pork and 1800 bags of coffee, will not be able to discharge this, but will have to return it to Great Britain. The Christianiafjord had to promise that this would be done, during her recent detention at Kirkwall. Two American passengers were taken off the steamer at this port for "surveillance."

BERLIN, Nov. 20.—The Hamburg Correspondent, the well-known trade and financial publication, discusses in its edition of October 29th the regulation issued by the Swedish government, which orders that all Swedish ships which are not carrying contraband of war will be escorted by Swedish warships to protect them against overt acts of the British and says that this measure must unquestionably contribute toward guarding Swedish neutrality and integrity. The paper points out that this is done by a small nation which is not afraid to rebel against the tyranny of Great Britain, which all neutral nations are feeling bitterly. The paper reminds Germany that the United States have been asked to have American steamers accompanied by warships, the same United States which are now also protesting against the breaches of international law on the part of Great Britain.

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 21.—An editorial of the leading St. Petersburg daily, the Novoje Wremja, discusses the published resolution of the Russian Council to confiscate the property of all Germans in the Russian empire. In this article the Russian paper demands that the property of all Protestants in the Baltic provinces be also confiscated, irrespective of whether they are Germans or not. The Novoje Wremja is considered the mouthpiece of the government.

SAYS BRITISH VICTORY MAY UNITE U. S. AND GERMANY

LONDON, Eng.—Addressing the Fabian Society on "Diplomacy After the War," Bernard Shaw warned his hearers that a crushing defeat of Germany, leaving Great Britain the strongest naval and military power, might drive Germany and the United States into a defensive alliance against the combined naval power of Great Britain and Japan.

Charlotte Cashman, the four years old daughter of William J. Cashman, was killed by a train at a grade crossing at Quincy, Mass.

OFFER PRAYERS FOR RECOVERY OF MELANPHY

While he was lying in a comatose condition at his home on Keeaunoku street, only a few doors away, feared to be dying, the Men's Club of St. Andrew's Cathedral parish last night prayed for the recovery of Edmond Melanphy, one of the club's most popular members.

Mr. Melanphy was reported this morning to be in about the same condition as last night. At the suggestion of one of the club's members, while a business meeting was in progress at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Tenney Peck of Wilder avenue, who were entertaining the organization, a short prayer service was held, interceding for Mr. Melanphy's recovery.

Right Rev. Henry Bond Restarick, D. D., bishop of the diocese, led in prayer. Resolutions were also passed, to be forwarded to the Melanphy home, expressing the hope of the club that Mr. Melanphy will soon be convalescent.

Mr. and Mrs. Peck entertained the club last evening. A short business session was held first, at which it was the sense of the meeting that the name of the club's anti-tuberculosis committee should be changed to health committee, and that the club concentrate its activities on cases of members of the Episcopal church here needing help, leaving the tubercular work heretofore performed by the club to those organizations here making a specialty of it.

President Guy H. Buttloph, announced that Mr. and Mrs. John Guld will entertain the club next month at their home, for the January meeting. The attendance last night was large, and several new members were elected.

Morning on CHANGE

Olas, which has been fluctuating between 8% and 8 1/2% for the last three days, mounted to the latter figure yesterday afternoon and sold again at 1/2 this morning, with closing bids at the latter figure not satisfied. Oiaa bonds continue to climb and touched a new level of $99.50 today, with every prospect of passing par next week. Ewa sold down one-quarter this morning, but Honolulu Brewing & Malting has mounted to $20 per share. Oahu Sugar and all other issues are strong and apparently have good support.

DECKER TO SELL STOCK OF SHOES AT BIG BARGAIN

Honoluluans will be offered a fine stock of shoes at cut-rate prices next week, as the result of the purchase today by Sam Decker of the stock of the bankrupt Wing Loy store on King street, in the Hocking building.

Mr. Decker bought in the shoes at trustees' sale, conducted by H. T. Mills, for $1450, and immediately announced that next week he will have a big sacrifice sale at which holiday buyers can get many rare bargains. Further announcement of details is to be made next week.

The sale will run until the stock is closed out.

IRWIN SITE IS HELD TOO COSTLY BY UNCLE SAM, SAYS CABLEGRAM

According to a special radio message received Thursday afternoon by the Advertiser, the treasury department has placed the maximum price it will pay for the Irwin building site in Honolulu at $15,000 above the assessed value, or about $170,000. It is understood that the figure asked of the government by the Irwin interests is $230,000. The Irwin estate property, with improvements, is assessed at $135,625, and the land on which the opera house is situated, with improvements, is assessed at $20,000, a total of $155,625.

Governor Pinkham has expressed himself as being deeply interested in the civic center, and feels that Honolulu should be thus placed in line with cities of the mainland.

"If our wealthy men had half the ambition for the reputation and welfare of their city as obtains elsewhere," he says, "they would under no circumstances miss the opportunity of embellishing their city, even if they had to contribute something toward the purchase of the site."

An Autographic KODAK for Christmas

Despite the fact that the autographic feature will enable the recipient of an Autographic Kodak to date and title his films when the exposure is made, a feature which greatly increases the value to the amateur, the advance in price over the regular models is slight. It will cost you very little more and will cost him no more to operate because the price of the film is the same as for the old style.
